President Wriston Leaves For Two Weeks On Eastern Trip

GIVES REPORT TO A. A. C. IN INDIANAPOLIS

Will Speak To Alumni Groups
In New York, Boston, and Washington

Dr. Henry Merritt Wriston, president of Lawrence College, left Monday on his annual trip to eastern cities in the interests of the college. The trip will require two weeks, the president said before his departure Monday.

After leaving Appleton, the president made his first stop at Indianapolis, Indiana, where this week he will attend the annual convention of the Association of American Colleges.

Gives Report

On Thursday of this week Dr. Wriston will present a report to the association on "Some Problems of Scholarship." Other speakers on the program for the Indianapolis convention are Dr. R. M. Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, Dr. Alfred W. Anthony of New York city, Dean M. C. Haggerty of the University of Michigan, President A. L. Lowell of Harvard, Dr. Lorado Taft of Chicago, President William L. Bryan of Indiana University. This is the seventeenth annual convention and is being held in the Hotel Claypool.

From Indianapolis Dr. Wriston will go to New York city, where, on January 24, he will address a meeting of the Lawrence College alumni association there, and on January 26 he will address the Lawrence alumni group at Boston in the University club.

To Meet Alumni

While the greater part of the remainder of the time President Wriston expects to spend in New York, he is also tentatively planning for a meeting of Lawrence alumni at Washington, D.C. If it is possible the meeting will be held when Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Trever, and Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Weston travel through Washington on their way to the east coast where they will board ship February 4 for Europe.

The following excerpts are from a brief outline of the address to be given by Dr. Wriston at the Indianapolis meeting Thursday morning:

"We all tend to assume that a person well trained and well employed will remain a valuable factor in the life of the institution. Yet the experience of industry and our own experience indicates with perfect definiteness that changes take place, and not only in the instructional efficiency but in the actual personality of the teacher. Hence his effectiveness as a scholar, as an instructor, and as a personal force fluctuates actively and sometimes violently. A careful study (over a period of two years) of the teaching of chemistry in a large number of land grant colleges revealed an apparent decline in teaching effectiveness with the passing years and some of the best teaching was done by those newly trained and freshly enlisted.

"Many Dangers"

"The constant contact with immature minds constitutes a real danger to the profession, because competition is always unequal. The mind of the instructor is not stretched and toughened as it would be if he were in active competition with his peers.

"Contacts with students are the essence of college training, but they have value only if the man has something to give. Mere geniality, mere kindness, even high character, are not enough. He ought to be intellectually alive, up to date, and vigorous in his

Hicks, Reid Prize Manuscripts Are Due 17th Of April

April 17 is the final date for manuscripts in competition for the Hicks and Reid prizes, according to an announcement made by Prof. F. W. Clippinger.

The Hicks prizes, established by the late John Hicks of Oshkosh, are awarded for the best short story and the best poem, respectively.

The Alexander Reid prize, a bequest of the late Alexander Reid of Appleton, is awarded for the best essay of from 1000 to 2000 words.

Last year the Reid prize was won by Ellen Stuart, '30, the Hicks poetry prize by Clifford Collins, '33, and the Hicks prize in short story writing was not awarded because of lack of competition.

relationship with the flowing stream of knowledge. Many a college teacher has spent so much time in contacts with students and in performing the other functions of the college that he does not keep up to date and has less and less to give intellectually, although he may have more and more to give personally. But if the students do not respect his intellectual contributions they will associate the poverty of his intellectual contribution with his attempts at character training.

"Creative Living"

"It is manifest that the teacher who tends to use only books written for students is not being developed. His mind is in contact only with the generalizations and simplifications designed for immaturity. He ought, on the other hand, to be living with the creative spirits within his field, as their writings appear in the journals and in works of scholarly significance, and not only in English but in the foreign languages as well."

In recommending that the reading habits of college professors be studied, the commission on Faculty and Student Scholarship pointed out in its report as presented by Dr. Wriston, that it would be valuable to study the size of the library appropriations, the policies governing library purchases, teaching loads, administrative work, routine burdens of professors, and many other factors as they effect the opportunities for scholastic research, available to college professors. Investigation of the question is a new one according to the report. Specifically the commission states:

Debaters Open Season Friday

Ease of Presentation Marks
First Encounter On Insurance Issue

Conversational tone and ease of presentation marked the opening of the Lawrence intercollegiate debate season in Peabody auditorium last Friday evening. A Lawrence negative team of Henry Connor and Robert Beggs opposed an affirmative duo from North Central College, Naperville, Ill.

Insurance Is Subject

Compulsory unemployment insurance to which the employer shall contribute was the subject under discussion. The Lawrence negative case was received as a complete surprise, the North Central team said after the debate.

Connor, sophomore, made a strong bid for recognition in what was his first appearance before a home audience. His delivery is especially pleasing, and his conversational manner won immediate approval from the audience.

Seemingly Agree

The Lawrence negative team approached the question in the same manner the North Central pair did. During the first three constructive speeches it looked strongly as though both teams were going to agree almost completely. But with presentation of the second negative speech the issues came to light more plainly.

It was a non-decision debate, both teams preferring to discuss the matter with that in mind. William Morton presided as chairman. Mr. Schafer and Mr. Deiber made up the visiting team. They had debated Carroll on Thursday night and went from here to Ripon where they debated Saturday evening.

Women Debaters Face Hard Tilts

Will Argue Automobile and Unemployment Insurance
This Year

With the addition of the University of Iowa to its schedule, the women's debate squad of Lawrence College faces one of its stiffest schedules in several seasons. Exact dates for the debates have not been announced.

Rexford Mitchell, coach of the women's debate squad has announced that Lawrence teams will meet the University of Iowa, Northwestern University, the University of Wisconsin, Carleton College, and Hamline College.

Against the teams representing the universities, the Lawrence debaters will argue the question of "Compulsory Automobile Liability Insurance," and against the college teams, the blue and white team will debate on "Unemployment Insurance," the same subject that is being debated by the men's team of Lawrence.

Rotary Club To See Students Give Play

"The Passing of Chow-Chow," Chow-Chow being the name of a dog, will be presented before the Rotary club here Feb. 3 under the direction of Dan Hopkinson. Members of the cast are Dorothy Howell, William Morton, and Marcus Plant.

RIPON REDMEN BASKETEERS

Pictured here are the five first-string performers for the Ripon College Redmen who, with two Midwest conference victories, loom as threats in the state as well as Midwest loops. The Ripon Redmen are under the tutelage of their former teammate and star, "Red" Martin, who is making his debut as a college coach this season.

Thrilling Effects And Beautiful Music Characterize 'Requiem' Presented Sunday

By Helen Hector

A capacity audience filled the Memorial chapel Sunday evening when the Schola Cantorum, under Carl J. Waterman, presented a very stirring performance of Verdi's "Requiem". Supported by four very fine soloists, the chorus gave a production which was marked by thrilling effects and beautiful music.

Gertrude Farrell, soprano, Helen Mueller, contralto, and Carl McKee, baritone, maintained the high standard of performance for which they are well known in Appleton. Wilbur Davis, Milwaukee, made his first appearance here in the tenor part of the mass. The "Domine Jesu" (O, Lord God), was perhaps the finest thing done by the quartet, and the contralto and soprano duet, "Angus Dei" (Lamb of God), was outstanding.

The chorus singing was marked by the usual well blended ensemble which is always in evidence in the groups which Mr. Waterman directs. In the very difficult Sanctus, fugue for double choir, the attacks were notable, and each section made a definite contribution to the brilliant effect which was produced. The closing soprano solo and chorus brought the work to a high pitch of emotion, and then dwindled down to an infinite pianissimo on the closing lines. The dramatic intensity of the entire concert was very effective, and was received by a closely attentive and appreciative audience.

High praise is due the accompanists Miss Margaret Trueblood and Russell Wichmann, pianists, and LaVahn Maesch, organist.

One Act Play Given By Lawrence Students

"Young America," a one act play, was presented by Lawrence College students before the Monday club yesterday afternoon and before a combined meeting of the parent teachers' associations of the Roosevelt junior high school and the first ward school Monday evening. The members of the cast are Betty Meyer, John Reeve, Howard Anderson, Irving Peters, and Ruluf Gile. The play is put on under the personal direction of Prof. F. Theodore Cloak, director of dramatics at the college.

A veteran Ripon College quint will attempt to run its Midwest winning streak to three straight tonight at the expense of Coach A. C. Denney's Viking cagers when the two teams meet at Alexander gymnasium at 8 o'clock. The freshman teams of each college will play a preliminary, starting at 7 o'clock sharp.

The redskins, with the scalps of Beloit and Knox hanging to their belt, are determined to erase the defeat dealt out to them last year on the local hardwoods, but, on the other hand, the Denneymen are equally willing to wipe off the stain of an inglorious Ripon victory suffered last season when the blue and white played at Ripon.

Contenders for Crown

Tutored by Donald "Red" Martin, last year's captain and now head cage coach at his alma mater, the crimson athletes loom as a strong contender for pennant honors in both the Midwest and Big Four loops. A late rally enabled the youthful mentor to mark up his first win of the year over a strong Beloit five, 31 to 26. Last Friday evening Knox College was reversed 39 to 36 when Glenn Johnson, lanky Chicago center, dropped in nine goals and four gift shots for a total of 22 points, while his teammates came through in excellent fashion to furnish a winning margin over the Illinois team.

Martin has shifted Falconer, guard from last year's five, to a forward position to work in with Christ, another veteran. Both men are good shots and will bear watching. However, the redskins' biggest scoring threat is Johnson. Last year he tossed in nine field goals, all in the second half, when the Vikings went down to defeat in the Ripon clubhouse. Most of his shots are from out near midcourt, although he makes good use of his height under the basket.

For his guard berths, the Ripon coach has his brother, Rodney Jensen, Steinman, and Meyer. Rodney Martin, captain of both the football and basketball teams this year, injured his foot in grid practice and only recently has completely recovered. Jensen and Meyer are both promising sophomores who seem headed for regular berths next year. Steinman is also a new man to the Ripon ranks.

Vikings Prepared

The Vikings had a chance to rest up after their two openers with Carroll and Beloit when the schedule found them with an open date. However, Denney sent his men through stiff rehearsals last week in preparation for the encounter tonight, stressing both the offensive and defensive departments of the game. It is quite likely that Benny Rafoth will keep company with Johnson, redskin scoring ace, while Fischl, VanderBloemen, and Gochbauer will keep the Ripon forwards under cover. The blue and white mentor will have Biggers and Hall for his front men with the possibility of shifting in Laird and Felts, both six footers, should height prove advantageous.

Reports from downstate indicate that a large crowd of Ripon rooters will be on hand.

PASSING COMMENT

LAWRENCE VS. RIPON

Tonight in Alexander gym two dyed-in-the-wool rivals in Wisconsin athletic circles will meet in a basketball game that will leave the victorious five in a tie with Carleton for leadership in the Midwest conference.

Ripon will bring to the local court a team composed of veterans. Lawrence will present a five having three inexperienced men in the starting positions. There are many who feel, however, that despite this advantage in experience, Ripon will be outclassed, man for man, in basketball ability and that two evenly matched teams will line up at the starting whistle. If this proves to be the case local cage fans may expect a battle royal.

The game is to be played on the home court and members of the Viking team are expecting the Lawrence students to do everything possible in the line of cheering and encouragement from the bleachers to make this advantage as great as the one under which they will be forced to labor when visiting Ripon later in the season.

OUR PROFESSORS TALK

Pity the poor prof when he faces us assembled in that brief period for cultural advancement on a Monday, Wednesday, or Friday. Shall he address those faces meticulously applied to books in laps or turned to a neighbor in engaging conversation, or shall he merely face them and talk to his brothers on the platform behind him; they might pay attention and be capable of intelligent understanding.

And then again what shall he choose to talk on. Would a treatise read from manuscript on "Eighteenth Century Prose," "Ionization," "Aristotle's Philosophy," "The Rock Formations in the Appalachians," or "The Thirty Years' War," and so on, inveigle those eyes and ears from their preoccupations? Will his next class mind if he repeats what he is going to say in today's lecture?

We say pity the poor prof, for even his audience is not agreed as to what he should choose for chapel speeches. Recently in a class of 160 elementary psychology students, the majority of them sophomores, 98 per cent were united in the belief that Lawrence professors should not talk upon subjects that supposedly they are best prepared for, subjects that are used for the classroom lecture.

However, a smaller class of advanced student psychologists comprised of juniors and seniors agreed that our professors should talk upon that which they can speak with most authority.

They maintained that a professor can and will hold the interest of Lawrence students if he extend himself to be clever enough to relate his subject to student interests, either by manner of presentation or content of his talk.

A FABLE

Title: Professors and Grades.

Suggested By: Many students.

Reference: An old fable.

The Fable: Once upon a time three learned professors were given four simple problems in addition, of which the correct answers were 70, 77, 85, and 93, respectively.

And it came to pass that the three learned professors failed to solve the problem, because, through force of habit, they found the sums to be 69, 76, 84, and 92, respectively.

Conclusion: Many professors at Lawrence would fail in the same four problems.

Moral: 2000 years ago Aesop said, "He who is able to distinguish between a 69 and a 70; or a 76 and a 77 is indeed a 'distinguished' professor."

'Italy' Is Subject Of Chapel Talk

Professor Weston Will Travel Through Country On Leave Of Absence

Prof. A. H. Weston, who is going to Europe on a leave of absence, spoke during convocation period Monday morning. Prof. Weston believes that Italy is his choice for travel because observations which can be made in Italy would have direct bearing to his duties here at Lawrence.

Prof. Weston spoke of the undefinable thrill and the spiritual experience in being among Roman ruins where the civilizations of the past flourished.

Though Italy is so important to the study of European history, though it was the seat of the Roman Empire, its importance does not lie entirely in the past. The Italian people object to the emphasis we put upon the museum-like qualities. Prof. Weston further commented upon the outstanding Fascist movement which originated during the great crises following the war.

There was no single political party to deal with the situation so the people had to choose between Bolshevism and Fascism. Fascism's excuse for being seems to follow the idea that it is more important to organize for political strength; it demands service, it is not what the people get but what they sacrifice. It is something of a super-individuality or super-personal entity.

Prof. Weston intends to visit Virgil's birthplace which is reasonably well identified. In conclusion, Prof. Weston expressed the hope that upon his return he will be able to pass on the effect of "spiritual experience" that one realizes in travel.

M.P.E. Members Present Recital

Members of Pi chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, national honorary musical sorority, were presented in recital at Peabody hall Thursday evening. Vocal, violin, and piano numbers made up the program.

Kathryn Uglov, '31, opened the recital with a group of songs including "Time You Old Gypsy Man," Besly; "Over the Steppe," Gretchaninoff; and "Ecstasy" by Rummel. Two piano solos, Schumann's Novelette, Opus 21, number 1, and "Valse Arabesque" by Guion, were played by Hildegard Wetzler, '32. Lucille Austin, '31, sang "Night and the Curtains Drawn," Ferrata; "Four Ducks on a Pond," Needham; and "Now Joan Now Ardently Kissed," Bemberg. "Sonatine," Opus 137, by Schubert, was played as a violin solo by Agnes Snell, '31. A group of numbers by the vocal sextet composed of Kathryn Uglov, Lucille Austin, Katherine Schmetz, '30, Dorothy Draheim, '31, Helen Mueller, professor of voice, and Hildegard Wetzler concluded the program. Nettie Steninger Fullinwider was the accompanist.

Lucille Austin Sings In Convocation Last Friday

Miss Lucille Austin, '31, presented a group of songs during convocation period Friday morning. Her group consisted of the following numbers: "Night and Curtains are Drawn" by Ferrata; "Four Ducks on a Pond" by Needham; and an aria from "Joan of Arc" by Bemberg.

Miss Austin was accompanied by Mrs. Fullinwider.

Miss Olga Smith, instructor in Botany, spent the weekend at Waupun.

Which Reminds Us

Registrar:
Dear Sir: I am the teacher of Max Tuff, who, I understand, is applying for admission at your university this fall. My opinions regarding him are not of the highest, but I think you would do well in accepting him. He is not a good student, and his marks are poor. He is not popular and has few friends. His personality is negative, his appearance is sloppy, and his wits are slow.

Very truly yours,

J. GUSH.

P.S.—He was captain of his school's basketball team.

MY DEAR MR. GUSH:

We appreciate your account of Max Tuff's remarkable record. In view of his high scholastic ability and all round worth, we have decided to award him a scholarship of four years.

Very truly yours,

THE REGISTRAR.

Penn Punch Bowl.

We noticed in the New York Times a story relative to the fact that an Arkansas girls' basketball team had scored 455 points in five contests as compared to its opponents total of 29. The scores in one of their games was 143 to 1.

On the other hand Big Ten conference quints amassed the unusually large sum of 219 points on the same night last week when playing each other. From what we have seen of the basketball played by members of the so-named weaker sex, we're puzzled as to how they could run up such a tremendous count.

lege on the latter's floor. However, until that time the Iowa blue devils had been going full speed ahead. They seem to have a powerful offense, having scored 72 points against Carroll and Coe, and although losing to the Carls, they managed to loop in 29 points. Cornell finished down near the bottom of the ladder last year, but this year its backers are fully justified in hoping for a better showing, considering the Mt. Vernon team's performance to date.

The Ripon contest tonight will be the last one until after the Viking cagers have tackled semester exams. Coach Denney plans to give his men a three or four day rest beginning tomorrow during which time they can get set for the battle with the semi-annual quizzes.

It is probable that the next time the Vikes take the floor, which will be on January 31 against Marquette that two or three new men will be in uniform. Bud Pierce, veteran guard, Willie Haase, sensational sophomore, and Bill Tams, another guard, should all become eligible. All of these men have been tak-

Yearlings Meet Ripon Frosh In Preliminary

TANGEN'S MEN IN FIRST BIG '4' OPPOSITION

First Year Cage Aspirants Have Shown Improvement With Practice

By Henry Connor

Coach Einar Tangen's first year basketball team will swing into action against their first college competition Tuesday night when Ripon's promising yearling squad invades Alexander gymnasium in company with Red Martin's varsity.

Starting the season with an unimpressive victory over Appleton high school, the Vike frosh squad has kept improving as the practice sessions roll by, and now presents a balanced front that needs take a back seat to no yearling group in the Big Four.

Karsten Is Threat

Karsten, whose sensational work with the Theta Phis in the inter-fraternity play has marked him as a corner, looms as a distinct threat to Vike frosh opposition. Unusual stamina and a dead eye from the floor are characteristic features of "Pete's" play. Ward Rosebush, lanky forward of no mean ability, will see plenty of service tonight, and the cool ball handling of this lad is a stabilizing factor in the attack Coach Tangen has built up.

Center duty will probably find Colbert as first choice, with Tink and Sunnes ready at any minute to fill the breach. All three of these lads have plenty of height, but Colbert's experience gives him a distinct advantage against seasoned opposition. Wiese, Fabres, Heffernan, and Brauer all have shown plenty of stuff in the preliminary games thus far, and will undoubtedly be called on before the referee's whistle ends this evening's struggle.

Hesselgrave and Jacobsen, both small but full of fight, work well together in the back court or at the forwards, and Coach Tangen's job at present seems to resolve itself into finding the best possible combination in such a well balanced squad. Senn, Vedder, and Ritter all lack experience, but with a few games under their belts this trio too should be bidding strongly for places on Coach Tangen's starting lineups.

The game will be called as near seven o'clock as possible, and the frosh class is expecting to turn out en masse at this hour to back its representatives.

The Theta Phis, Sig Eps, and Betas remained undefeated atop the Greek cage race as a result of Saturday afternoon's scrimmages, while the D.I.'s and Delta Sigs sank a bit further into the basement. The Phi Taus now waver between cellar and roof at the .500 point.

Led by Brauer, Karsten, and Strange who scored 32 points between them, the Theta Phis ran a baffled Delta Sig team into the gym floor by a 39 to 3 count. Apparently all in from holding the enemy to a 4 and 2 count in the first quarter, the Delta Sigs stood looking on blindly while Karsten and company proceeded to ring up baskets in monotonous succession in the next three periods.

Denneymen Will Be Inactive Until the Hilltop Encounter Here

Following the Ripon contest tonight, Lawrence cagers will be idle until Saturday, Jan. 31, when they again resume action against the strong Marquette University team at Alexander gymnasium.

Last year, the Denneymen lost both games to the Hilltoppers although the final tilt, played on the Vikings own floor, was labelled a blue and white win until the final minutes when two free throws by Joe King, captain of this year's Hilltop five, left the Vikes one point behind, 26 to 25. A Viking player had an opportunity to tie the score after the final whistle, but failed to make good on a charity toss. The half ended 15 to 10 in favor of the local quint.

Defeated Wisconsin

Marquette has looked quite impressive in its engagements to date in spite of being set back by Notre Dame, Michigan State and Chicago. During the Christmas holidays Chandler's men took the long end of a 16 to 14 score from the Meanwell five in Milwaukee.

The Hilltoppers will bring a veteran quint with them to Appleton, having lost only one regular, Roy Andrews, giant center, through graduation last year. However, Whitey Budrunas has made Milwaukee fans forget Andrews' loss by a remarkable bit of shooting. Last year the Waukegan towhead scored nine points against the Vikes at a forward booth and this year leads Marquette scorers with a total of 48 points. Along with Budrunas, at present laid up with a sprained ankle, the new Marquette mentor will have Captain Joe King and Al Shipley at guards, and Zummach, Ronzanni, and McElligott at forwards.

of the afternoon, the Betas made their debut of the season with a 17 to 9 victory over the D.I.'s. Led by Foote and Dodge in scoring, and backed up by the cool court play of Jacobson at guard, the Betas rallied after trailing at the end of the first quarter to take an 8 to 5 advantage at the half, and then coast home to win. The game was decidedly rough, a total of 21 fouls being called on the two squads.

Cornell Loses To Carleton; Knox Drops 2

Conference Scores
Carleton 45; Cornell 29
Ripon 39; Knox 36
Beloit 29; Knox 26
Monmouth 32; Coe 19

Carleton College, Northfield, again demonstrated its superiority in Midwest basketball circles by defeating Cornell College of Mt. Vernon, Iowa 45 to 29, and thereby keeping its slate clean. It was the first reversal suffered by the Iowans.

The Monmouth Scots served notice to the other Midwest teams that they are still in the running for conference honors by winning handily from Coe 32 to 19. It was only after a hard fought battle that the Illinois team yielded to Carleton the week previous, but its comeback makes it a serious threat.

Knox College easily might be called the college of "Hard Knox" after its road trip last weekend which ended so disastrously. The Knox tekes lost to Ripon and Beloit, both by three point margins. In the former game, Johnson, Ripon long shot specialist, spelled out defeat in terms of 22 points for high scoring honors, which with those of his teammates, gave Red Martin's crew a 39 to 36 triumph. Strabridge made 14 counters for the losing quint. At Beloit, the score was 29 to 26. Beloit, playing on its own floor after its own losing road trip of the week before, opened up with everything it had to top the Knoxers.

Little Four Cage Fives Play Last Games Tonight

Tonight the Little Four, of the men's non-Greek league will close its basketball season for this year, when the two remaining games on the schedule will be clicked off at the new gymnasium.

In the two final games the Bears clash with the Tigers, and the Bulldogs will attempt to keep their record of no defeats when they meet the Lions.

It had been planned to have the games played Saturday, but because of fraternity basketball games they were postponed.

Immediately after the curtain has been drawn on basketball, handball and swimming will hold the center of the stage in the Little Four.

Sig Eps Lead In Supremacy Race

Take Volleyball Championship; D.I.'s and Theta Phis Second, Third

STANDINGS	Total Points
Sigma Phi Epsilon	381
Delta Iota	337
Theta Phi	286
Beta Sigma Phi	174
Delta Sigma Tau	160
Psi Chi Omega	137
Phi Kappa Tau	60

Sigma Phi Epsilon retains its lead in the race for the supremacy cup by virtue of winning the interfraternity volleyball championship. Still in second position, Delta Iota is close on the heels of the leaders, having boosted its total points by placing second in volleyball.

Last Thursday evening the Sig Eps defeated the Betas to complete their volleyball schedule of six games without a loss. In the first game the Sig Eps were trailing 2-5, when "Chuck" Watkins served 12 straight points to win the match. The Betas took advantage of the listless attitude of their opponents, in the second game, to win 8-15. The third game was slow with the points running 6-3, 6-4, 6-5. Then playing real defensive ball, the Sig Eps took the game 15-6, and the championship.

Psi Chi Omega forfeited its game to the Theta Phi and lost 20 points given each team entering and completing its schedule in a sport. The Psi Chis, however, earned 80 points toward their total in a three cornered tie for fourth place, between the Betas and Delta Sigs. Phi Kappa Tau continues to hold its cellar position by losing all six volleyball games and only collecting 20 points for completing its schedule.

Set Deadline On Juegos Florales Contributions

All contest contributions for the Juegos Florales, the annual Spanish festival, must be in by February 20, according to the announcement made by Miss Charlotte Lorenz, professor of Spanish. The events of the contest, of which a festival on February 24 will be the climax, are as follows: an original poem and an original thousand word short story, both in Spanish; an English essay of 2000 words on the subject, "Spanish culture in the United States", and a translation of an assigned Spanish poem into English verse.

Since 1927 Lawrence College has celebrated in this way the Spanish festival of flowers and games held in honor of winners in literary contest. Memorial chapel on the night of February 24 will be the scene of Spanish festivity. A queen, chosen by the winner of first prize, will preside over a court program of drama, music, and poetry.

Miss Mary Dunham who is attending Ripon College, visited Betty Miller over the weekend.

Seniors, Sophs Begin Ice Hockey

Juniors Oppose Freshmen In Scrimmage At Jones' Park Next Thursday

Lawrence College hockey will get under way in earnest this afternoon at Jones' rink, when the puck chasers of the senior and sophomore classes will meet to make preliminary arrangements for their part of the schedule which, if possible, will start next week.

The choice of probable teams, drills in hockey fundamentals, and other high lights of early season drill will be touched upon by the coach in charge. At present little is known of the comparative strength of the two classes, but dame rumor has it that the class of '31 will place a snappy aggregation on the ice.

Thursday afternoon at four o'clock the juniors and freshmen will scrimmage each other under the eyes of a tutor, and much the same procedure as will be followed with these two groups will be administered to the seniors and sophs this afternoon.

Walter Clark Cops Aquatic Honors

Shelley Dodge Takes Diving Event; Plan for Regular Meets

Walter Clark, '34, copped individual honors in the all-college swimming and diving contest held in the Alexander gymnasium pool Saturday afternoon. Amstutz, captain of the swimming team of Wooster College, Ohio, and a graduate student in the Institute of Paper Chemistry, was high point man. However, his record was ruled unofficial because of the nine semester rule. Shelley Dodge showed his superior skill off the diving board, and won the diving event. Both Clark and Dodge will receive medals.

The events:

50 yard free style
1. Clark; 2. Amstutz; 3. Herschleb.
Time: 27.7.

50 yard back stroke
1. Amstutz; 2. Vennema; 3. Clark.
Time: 32.5.

Diving
1. Dodge—gained 63 out of a possible 80 points. 2. Clark—gained 55 out of a possible 80 points.

50 yard breast stroke
1. Amstutz; 2. Herschleb; 3. Clark.

100 yard free style
1. Vennema; 2. Clark; 3. Scoggin.
Time 1:13.

According to Wayne Vincent, inter-mural manager, plans are being laid for competitive swimming and diving meets to be held every two weeks. These will begin immediately after the semester examinations.

Raney To Talk

Professor William F. Raney will address the Neenah-Menasha Rotary club Jan. 23 upon the subject of "The History of the Fox River Valley."

Chemistry Professors Conduct Joint Research

An article on the alkaline cooking of longleaf southern pine, reporting a joint research project conducted by Harry F. Lewis and E. R. Laughlin of the Institute of Paper Chemistry, appeared recently in the December issue of the Paper Trade Journal. Dr. Lewis, professor of organic chemistry at the institute and former head of the department of chemistry at Ohio Wesleyan University conducted the research on this subject with Mr. Laughlin while at Ohio Wesleyan. Mr. Laughlin at that time was research assistant to Dr. Lewis.

The article reports an extensive study of alkaline cooking as a part of this particular variety of raw material.
